

Management Tips for the BYOD Classroom

Tip#1: Clearly Communicate BYOD Programming to Students and Parents

- ☐ Parent BYOD Survey
- ☐ Letter to Parents, Consent Form, and Student Handbook
- ☐ Digital Social Contract

Tip #2: Use lots of Signage

- ☐ Zone Signs
- ☐ BYOD Reminder Signs
- ☐ BYOD Permitted Signs

Tip#3: Recognize the Students as the Experts

- ☐ Experts Bulletin Board
- ☐ Ask 3 Before Me

Tip #4: Document, Document, Document

- ☐ Device Class List
- ☐ Device Sign-Out Sheet
- ☐ Consent to Download Apps

Tip #5: Monitor

- ☐ Seating Arrangement
- ☐ Desktop Ready
- ☐ Screens Down
- ☐ Spot Check
- ☐ Body Language
- ☐ Get Involved

Tip#6: Be the teacher

- ☐ Teach New APPS
- ☐ Back-Up Plan
- ☐ Timely Troubleshooting
- ☐ Charging
- ☐ Time Limits and Warnings

Tip#7: Be flexible

- ☐ Social Time
- ☐ Equal Access
- ☐ Teaming Up
- ☐ Multiple Product Forms
- ☐ Generalized Assessment Tools
- ☐ Student-Generated Assessment Tools

Tip #8: Go Slow

- ☐ Small steps
- ☐ Reflection

Adapted from:

Ali, A.I. (2013). Etiquette, e-etiquette and cell phone use in the classroom. Issues in Information Systems, 14(2), 452-462. Retrieved from http://iacis.org/iis/2013/321_iis_2013_452-462.pdf

ekerts1 (Publisher). (2012, June 5). BYOD classroom management video. [Video File]. Retrieved from <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zg-SnyulrAE>

Nielsen, L. (2009). Why BYOD, not banning cell phones, is the answer. The Journal. Retrieved from <http://thejournal.com/articles/2012/05/09/why-byod-not-banning-cell-phones-is-the-answer.aspx>

TechnoKids Inc. (2013). BYOD Bring your own device handbook.

Retrieved from <https://app.getresponse.com/site/byod/webform.html?wid=453173>